POOL WAREHOUSES TO OPEN JAN. 30

Burley Directors Complete Arrangements For Handling Members' Crops

Local pool tobacco growers were pleased at news from Lexington Tuesday that the board of directors authorized Director of Warehouses Ralph M. Barker to open the houses in Lexington on Thursday, January 26, and the warehouses in all other towns in the burley district on the following Monday, January 30.

The directors also adopted the report of the committee on insurance, composed of Bush W. Allin, Harrodsburg, and John B. Winn, Versailles, which awarded all the insurance on the 117 warehouses and their equipment to the local agents of the district, to be placed directly by them; gave to Rentlinger & Company, the insurance on tobacco throughout the district, in warehouses or transit, in connection with the local agents and on a general cover form; placed the bond business with J. Morton Morris, Louisville, in association with local agents, and the employers' liability part of the association's business with Thomas S. Dugan, Louisville, in connection with local agents.

The insurance on tobacco will run into large figures, it was said yesterday, but most of it is likely to be so-called "short term" insurance, that is, running for but a few months of the year, while the insurance on the real property and equipment, which goes to local agents, is, of course, permanent.

Bush W. Allin, second vice president of the association, left for Washington to present the petition of the association for a loan of $10,000,000 from the War Finance Corporation, to be used to refund to banks which advance money to the association to pay growers on the delivery of their crops.

With the last of the difficulties attending the start of the association ironed out, assurances already given of the aid of the War Finance Corporation and the support of the banks which advised their depositors to join the association and promised in advance all help possible, President James C. Stone and his associates were optimistic over the outcome for the resumption of business in the tobacco district and a general improvement in business of all kinds as a result.

About Grading

Discussing the different grades of tobacco in the system of grading adopted by the Burley Tobacco Growers' Cooperative Association, J. Leslie Knight said yesterday that all the 52 grades would not be found in every crop.

"I have been asked," said Mr. Knight, "by a number of farmers if there were 52 grades in their crops. My reply is absolutely not. This number of grades has been established to take care of crops. The number of grades in the system adopted by the association will take care of all tobacco crops grown in Kentucky, Ohio and Indiana."

"If possible, growers should keep their long and short grades separate, as they will possibly grade different and it will be more satisfactory to all to keep them separate."

Warehouse Manager Ralph M. Barker said that farmers are registering their crops and co-operating with the plans made to handle the tobacco. "We would like to impress upon growers," he said, "that they do not deliver their crops more than a day prior to the registered dates. It will make it much easier to handle at much less expense."

Shooting In Clark County

Winchester, Ky., Jan. 18—John B. Lisle, farmer of Elkin, who Monday night shot and fatally wounded William Sweatman, of Flannagan Station, near the depot here, was given a preliminary hearing before County Judge R. S. Scobee, Tuesday afternoon, and released under $2,000 bond. His examining trial was set for January 26. He is charged with malicious shooting with intent to kill. Sweatman has a fighting chance to recover.

In Louisville over 5,000 canners are attending the annual convention.

New Coal Partnership

L. O. Powers has sold a half interest in his coal yard on Francis street to Pleas Benton. They are preparing to handle a fine line of feed also, and will soon tell the public about it in an ad in the Daily Register. Both are very popular with their friends.

BIG 3 CHARGED WITH KEEPING PRICES UP

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Jan. 18—The three principal tobacco manufacturing companies, the American Tobacco Company, the Pierre Lorillard Company and Liggett and Myers, are charged with conspiracy with a number of jobbers' associations to keep the jobbers' prices up in a report transmitted to the Senate today by the Federal Trade Commission.

The three companies, the commission declared, were formerly parts of the Tobacco Trust, dissolved by the Supreme Court. The Reynolds Company, the report said, is not a part of the alleged conspiracy and was commended for its opposition. The commission promised prosecutions where evidence disclosed law violations.

OPEN DOOR POLICY ADOPTED FOR CHINA

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Jan. 18—The American proposal to define an open door policy in China and to create an international board to examine both existing and future concessions which appear to conflict with it, was adopted in part today by the Far Eastern Committee of the Washington conference.

G. O. P. FINALLY TO PASS BONUS BILL

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Jan. 18—A decision to first press the Allied debt refunding bill and next the soldiers' bonus bill was reached today by the Republican senators in the first conference of this session of Congress. A second conference will be held tomorrow to consider details. Opposition to the soldier bonus bill developed, but it was announced officially that a motion to place this legislation second on the list carried by a large majority.

Len'ne or Chiterin

(By Associated Press)
Moscow, Jan. 18—Premier Lenine or Foreign Minister Chiterin will head the Russian Soviet delegation to the Geneva economic conference it is officially announced today.

NEWBY

Dan Cupid has been quite busy in the Newby section, three weddings being reported Saturday, the 16th, as follows:

REGISTER ALMANACS— IN MUCH DEMAND

The Daily Register has a few of the 1922 Almanacs left and those who have as yet failed to get one may do so by calling at the office on Second street. The many readers of the Daily Register have expressed their appreciation at receiving such a unique little book which contains so much interesting literature, besides the regular almanac information, and for those who are yet to get one it will be quite a pleasant surprise.

The Daily Register is mailing some of the Almanacs to the different banks of the county for distribution. If you will call at the Berea Bank & Trust Co., at Berea, the Waco Deposit Bank at Waco, or the Peoples Bank at Paint Lick, or the Farmers Bank at Kirksville, you will be able to obtain the Almanac.

Here's A Good Bill

(By Associated Press)
Frankfort, Jan. 18—Persons convicted of arson, burglary, homicide, murder, rape or robbery, will be ineligible for parole if the legislature acts favorably upon a measure introduced in the House by Representative J. L. Bosworth, of Bell county. The bill has been referred to the Committee on Kentucky Statutes. Under the present law, inmates of the reformatory may, after serving half of the sentence for which they were convicted, apply to the Prison Commission, or Board of Charities and Corrections for parole.

LEGION MINSTRELS PACKS THE HOUSE

Great Crowd Sees First Performance of Local Post's Annual Entertainment

With tuneful melody, attractive costumes and an audience that filled the opera house to capacity, Jesse M. Dykes Post of the American Legion, entertained with its annual minstrel performance Tuesday night. The same show will be repeated tonight, and indications are that another record-breaking crowd will see it.

Gov. Bowen, former Fields minstrel star, promoted the show, but the work of training the boys was done by Gordon Hunt, who is quite a little star himself. That the show is always such a success here is due to the varied amount of talent which Richmond produces. Bar and away the musical numbers were the features of the evening. Oscar Stanifer, June Wiggins, Charlie Stanifer, Charley Nelson, Dan Wintermute, Gordon Hunt, J. C. Ballard, Roderic Terrill, Wm. Elder, Tom Baxter and L. C. Elder, were the soloists and each and every one did well. Several have exceptionally good voices. The Berea boys, Copenhour and Wintermute, showed to good advantage.

The "premier comedians," Tom Baxter and Bill Elder, were given round after round of applause. In fact every number of merit received the enthusiastic encore of the big audience. Everyone enjoyed the caricature of the Richmond City Council, and the songs of the "Peerless Four," Roderic Terrill, Wolfe Campbell, June Wiggins and Ernest Wiggins. The evening closed with "Moonlight on the Mississippi," which included some clever and laughable work by practically all of the company. Charlie George attended to his work as Master of Ceremonies, with his usual polish and sang frolic.

The music by the Elder orchestra was superb as always. This amateur aggregation is simply in a class by itself. Publicity Manager L. W. Dunbar was congratulated on all sides for his good work, as evidenced by the great crowd. In fact, the boys all worked hard and faithfully and the host of friends of the Legion post are glad that the first night's performance was such a splendid success.

G. WALLACE EMBRY WAS BORN IN MADISON

G. Wallace Embry, 65 years old, livestock broker and active in business affairs in Louisville and other cities, died Tuesday morning at his home in Louisville. He was born in Madison county, where he has a number of relatives.

Until his retirement in September, Mr. Embry was president of the Tatum, Embry & Company, the Voss Table Company and the Embry Box Company. Mr. Embry went to Louisville as a youth, when he became connected with Tatum, Embry & Co., which was organized by his father in 1877. He became president of the firm when it was incorporated in 1920. Mr. Embry was chief stockholder in stockyards in Cleveland, Dayton, Havana, Cuba, and other cities.

Surviving him are a daughter, Mrs. J. E. Riddle, a son, Wallace T. Embry, and three grandchildren. Funeral services will be held at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the residence of his daughter, 118 Kennedy Court. Burial will be in Cave Hill cemetery. The pallbearers will be his six nephews, Foster H. Embry, Harry W. Embry, Norris W. Embry, Cecil J. Embry, Talton Embry and Higbee Embry.

GEN. PERSHING SAYS KEEP CAMP KNOX

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Jan. 18—General Pershing, chief of staff, at a hearing before the House military committee today, urged the War Department to retain nine main training centers, one in each training area, and a number of other special camps. He recommended training centers at Camp Devens, Massachusetts; Dix, New Jersey; Meade, Maryland; McClellan, Alabama; Knox, Kentucky; Custer, Michigan; Fort Riley, Kansas; Travis, Texas; Lewis, Washington. As supplementary camps for mobilizing and training of national guard units and special detachments, he urged the retention of Camp Upton, New York; Lee, Virginia; Jackson, South Carolina; Sherman, Ohio; Grant, Illinois; Pike, Arkansas; Dodge, Iowa. The artillery school now at Camp Knox will be moved to Camp Bragg and the Kentucky tract be used entirely for the fifth corps as a training center.

FESS WHITAKER GETS IT HEAVY

(By Associated Press)
Lexington, Jan. 18—Fess Whitaker, former jailer and county judge of Letcher county, was sentenced to serve 30 days in jail and pay a fine of $50 in the Letcher county circuit court Tuesday, according to word brought here today by Chief Probation Officer Fields. Whitaker was charged with "possessing and transporting liquor for purpose of illegal sale."

J. S. STANIFER SAYS ADVERTISING PAYS

There was one busy place in Richmond Wednesday, even though this has been a hard season on all the merchants, not only in Richmond, but all over the country. J. S. Stanifer, the big clothing merchant, realizing that his stock was moving slower this season than it should, decided to put on a "Backward Season Clearance Sale," and carried a big double page advertisement in the Daily Register, besides having thousands of bills distributed in surrounding towns announcing the tremendous bargains that would prevail at his store beginning Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock.

Long before the hour for opening people hung around the door and a continuous stream of buyers have thronged the store all day long. Mr. Stanifer again hands it to the Daily Register for the wide publicity he received, and says that the success of his business career in Richmond is largely due to printer's ink. He is a wide-awake merchant and is doing his bit in giving to Richmond a first class man's store surpassed by none of even larger cities than Richmond.

Don't forget the cooking demonstration at Richmond Welch Store, Thursday, Friday and Saturday afternoons.

Marriage Licenses

Johnnie Hoskins, 20, son of B. C. Hoskins, and Sonora Guess, 14, daughter of John Guess, both of White Hall, married by Judge John D. Goodloe Jan. 16, 1922.

"Brother" W. B. Turley, of Richmond, spent the week-end with his sister, Mrs. R. T. Bruce. "Brother" is now county clerk of Madison and is making an excellent one.—Stanford Journal.

During the year 1921 15,000 persons died as the result of automobile accidents.

NEWBERRY SEATING IS CONDEMNED

State Senate Has Sharp Debate Over Action of U. S. Body in Infamous Case

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 18—It is the opinion of a majority of the Kentucky Senate that the federal senate erred in seating Truman H. Newberry as United States Senator from Michigan. A resolution, introduced by Senator Robert C. Simmons, of Covington condemning the action of the upper branch of Congress in this instance, passed the Kentucky Senate Tuesday, 21 to 15.

Two republicans, Senators Brig Harris, of Ashland, and Bannie Taber, of Lawton, voted for the resolution, as did the 19 democrats present. Senator Ben T. Davis, of Hickman, being an absentee, Senator William Wallace voted against the resolution.

In the debate on the resolution its author, Frank E. Daugherty, of Bardonia, took occasion to censure the republicans in Congress for their action in finding as a jury, that Newberry was entitled to his seat, while at the same time using language which the Kentucky resolution claims, stamped the Michigan election illegal.

Senator Hiram Brock, of Harsan, minority leader of the Senate, opposed the resolution, on the ground that it is not the business of the Kentucky Senate to pass on matters which properly come before the Federal Senate, and that the Kentucky senators are not advised as to the facts.

Action on the contest election case from the Breathitt-Lee district was postponed on motion of Joseph F. Bosworth, minority chief of the house, soon after the committee had reported its findings, that Representative James H. Johnson, who holds the election certificate, should be unseated, and Bryce Canfield, democrat, the contestant, seated in his place. The decision of the case was made a special order for next Friday morning at 11 o'clock.

The House passed a resolution introduced by Representative Claude D. Minor, of Boyle county, providing for a committee of three representatives and two senators, to report to the General Assembly by February 7 which committee is to review the Kentucky system of taxation, as compared with the methods of other states; to make a survey of the taxing of commodities and property, manufacturing, industrial, coal and oil, and all other distinct and special interests, and with special reference to the classification features of the revenue laws of 1917.

In speaking of the resolution, Mr. Bosworth said that he would admit that farm lands are too heavily taxed, but contended that the coal counties also are carrying their share of the weight. He alleged that propaganda is being carried on to promote ill feeling between the mountains and agricultural section. "We want to stop that false propaganda, and that effort to align one part of the state against the other," he added.

Representative Geo. W. Waggoner, of Scott county, at this point interjected the question as to whether or not it is true that Henry Ford recently acquired a coal property of the value of $1,500,000, on which he is paying only $900 state taxes. Speaker Thompson stopped the debate, on the ground that Mr. Bosworth and Mr. Waggoner were out of order.

Ches Davis Coming

The show going public of Richmond will be delighted in hearing that Ches Davis, the popular black face comedian, will hold the boards at the Grand Theatre one week starting Monday, Jan. 23. Mr. Davis visited our city some time ago and will be remembered as having a clean popular price show for ladies and children. Ches has some of the old favorites with him this time, among them being little Mae Kenniz, who has just returned to the show after an absence of two years on a big New York production "Broadway Scandals." The others are Paul Landrum, Andy Duncan, Jim Pritchard, Billy Maxwell, Roy Butler and a big beauty chorus. This is a popular show at popular prices—35 and 55 cents.
